

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 30, 1894.

sun rises to-morrow at 4:41; and sets at 7:54. High water 4:30 a. m. and 4:50 p. m.

PROSECUTIONS ARRESTED.—The grand jury of the government was yesterday brought into requisition for the purpose of investigating the alleged conspiracy of John D. Donnelly, who was taken into custody by U. S. officials and held for his appearance in Washington to-morrow.

The procedure had been contemplated for some time and was consummated yesterday after all legal preliminaries had been arranged, and the accused was arrested under United States warrants on the charge of promoting policy in the District of Columbia, the grand jury of the District having returned an indictment against Mr. Donnelly and his sons Walter and Bernard. They are charged with having agents and solicitors in the District. As soon as the indictment was returned District Attorney Birney applied for a bench warrant against the indicted men and it was promptly issued. At 2 o'clock the papers were given to Deputy Marshals Cusick and Cook, and they were ordered to proceed to this city and arrest the offenders.

On arriving here late yesterday afternoon the marshals visited U. S. Commissioner Fowler, who issued regular warrants for the arrest of John, Bernard and Walter Donnelly, and Deputy Marshal Glover, of this district, went with the other two officers to the house of John Donnelly on Prince street, and arrested him. He was taken to Commissioner Fowler's office, where he was held in the sum of $500, and was cited to appear to-morrow morning before Judge Cole, of the U. S. Criminal Court in Washington. Walter and Bernard Donnelly were not arrested for some reason. Mr. Donnelly went to Washington last night for the purpose of securing attorneys and preparing a defense for himself and sons. He claims he has never been in the city, but so far they have proved abortive from the fact that it was impossible to say who conducted the trial and the outcome of the proceedings inaugurated yesterday is awaited with interest.

MR. JOHN UNDERWOOD, father of Mrs. M. M. Underwood, died last night at his home in Occoquan at an advanced age. During the period incident to the breaking out of the civil war Mr. Underwood played a prominent part in the local history of Prince William. His political convictions being adverse to those entertained by the majority of the people of his native village and county and he never failing to ventilate them, the wrangles which necessarily followed between himself and the secession and pro-slavery element then in the majority often verged upon personal conflict, and at times violence seemed imminent. He was one of the justices of the County Court at the time, and it is said, on one occasion, when he anticipated violence, he carried a large revolver to the courthouse with which to defend himself should he be attacked by his outspoken political predilections, it having been reported that he was to be mobbed. He was always given the credit of having erected the Lincoln and Hamilton flag pole at Occoquan in 1861, which James T. Jackson, who was killed at the Marshall House, was said to have cut down. When hostilities began Mr. Underwood sought safety within the federal lines, but later having occasion to visit relatives in Virginia he was captured and kept in Richmond for some time. At the close of the war he returned to his old home, became more conservative in his declining years and of late had interested himself but little in politics.

DECLARATION DAY is a national, not a state holiday, so only the government offices in the city were closed to-day and they but partially, and the post-office observed Sunday hours. The banks kept their doors open. This evening Declaration Day exercises were held at the Federal cemetery where quite a large crowd assembled. The exercises were under the auspices of T. P. Davis Post, G. A. R., and were as follows:

Calling assembly to order, Supt. J. V. Davis.
Invocation, Rev. Clarence Ernest Ball.
America, chorus.
The Blue and the Gray (poem), A. B. Travis.
Star Spangled Banner, chorus.
Oration, Rev. W. H. McAllister.
"Abide With Me," chorus.
Declaration (poem), J. V. Davis.
"Old Hundred," chorus.
Benediction, Rev. C. E. Ball.
Taps.
"Cover Them Over," chorus.
Singing of flowers.
The Friendship Drum Corps furnished musical music for the occasion.

WAS NOT ALEXANDRIA?—It is seriously contemplated by the management of the Theological Seminary at Union College to remove that institution to some point in the State where the students can enjoy more facilities from surrounding places than they can at its present site. Charlottesville, Richmond and other places are making bids for it and are urging the advantages to be enjoyed by the students in either place. Without disparaging the claims of other places, it is in order to call the attention of the Presbyterians to Alexandria as an eligible location for their seminary. Here they would have access to Washington with its libraries, museums, lectures and everything else appertaining to education that is to be found in the capital city. The Episcopal Theological Seminary, which has for so many years been virtually a part of Alexandria, has ever appreciated the superior advantages of its location.

FOUND DEAD.—Mr. James Beach, an old and well-known citizen of the Third ward, was found dead in his bed this morning at his home on north Alfred street. Mr. Beach had for some time been a quiet gentleman of the Third ward. He was a consistent member of the Third ward, and his death was a surprise to his family. Coroner Purvis viewed the remains and decided that death resulted from heart disease and deemed an inquest unnecessary. The funeral of the deceased will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE STEAMER HOWARD CASSARD, in tow of the tug Jono, arrived here about four o'clock this morning, and was docked at the Haskins Vulcanizing Company's wharf, between Wolfe and Wilkes streets. Her captain reports nothing of special interest as having occurred during the trip from Baltimore to this city, save that in coming down the bay the Cassard encountered squalls and variable winds, and notwithstanding the heavy sea, she glided along as smoothly and as steadily as though in a dock, the motion, it is claimed, being imperceptible. Many citizens boarded the steamer during the day and were courteously received by Mr. R. M. Fryer, who conducted them all over the vessel and explained her modern appointments. It is Mr. Fryer's purpose to place the Cassard a dock trial before giving her on the ways and also with a party of invited friends to make a short run down the river in order to demonstrate the workings of the steamer's engines as well as the new valve gear which has proved such a success. The modern steamship, which is now at Agnew's shipyard, will also be set to work during the dock. As is known, the Cassard is in miniature what the Pocahontas would have been had she been built, and from the construction of the former it is readily seen how commodious a vessel of the latter's dimensions would have been. The Cassard, it is claimed, when finished, will demonstrate that the plans of the Pocahontas were practicable and that she would have proved a success in every particular had she been built according to Mr. Fryer's designs.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY.—Judge James Keith presiding.—Continuation of yesterday's proceedings.
V. M. R. R. Co. vs. Pennsylvania R. R. Co.; continued.
The final report of the trustees of the First Presbyterian Church of Alexandria county of sale of land and erection of new Sunday School building, was confirmed and final decree entered.
Phillips vs. Phillips; decree of reference.

Edward Janney vs. Hanna's heirs; final decree.
To pay, in the Phillips road case the prior decree allowing $500 to the Cranford Quarry Co. for land damages was sustained and 60 days given to allow this company to appeal.
Ball vs. Douglas et als.; case continued.

Miles vs. Medford, report of commissioner confirmed and final decree.
Geo. T. Raub vs. Edward Crane, cause referred to H. H. Young, a master in chancery for report.

Central Trust Co., of New York, vs. the Washington and Arlington Railway Co., reports of commissioners confirmed and order for distribution.
Commonwealth vs. D. N. Rust, coupon case; motion of Commonwealth for judgment overruled and case dismissed.

McCuen vs. Merritt & Co., and same vs. Hopps, from the Circuit Court of Prince William county; suit to recover balance due for constructing a road in Prince William county; judgment for plaintiff in both cases.
Court adjourned for the term.

Judge Keith, of the Circuit Court, for this city in vacation yesterday, entered a decree in the case of Anna N. Smeade and husband against Belle Carter and others confirming the sale of real estate, ordering deed to be given to the purchaser, and referring that case to G. N. Boothe, special commissioner.

PERSONAL.—Dr. G. E. Abbot, President of the Mount Vernon Electric Railroad, was in the city to-day.

Mr. P. P. Phillips, the new rector of St. Paul's Church, was in the city to-day looking after the unpacking of his furniture, etc., which is being sent here from Berryville. Mr. Phillips will preach at St. Paul's Church on Sunday next, but will not remove his family here for a week or so yet. The rectory of St. Paul's Church has been repaired, much of which was done through the exertions of the ladies of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Kemper are at Berkeley Springs, Va., where they will remain for several days.

Col. and Mrs. L. C. Barley are in Richmond.

Mrs. F. E. Wible will leave here to-morrow for a visit to her old home in Canal Dover, Ohio.

Mrs. Benjamin Thomas fell from the front door steps of her house on Fairfax street to-day and sustained quite painful bruises. She was attended by Dr. Jones.

Congressman Meredith, Judge C. E. Nicol and Mr. J. B. T. Thornton, of Prince William county, were in the city to-day on legal business.

COULD NOT IDENTIFY THE REMAINS. The Washington police boat Joe Blackburn with Mrs. Moskovits aboard, who supposed the body of the man found in Little Hunting Creek last week was that of her husband, proceeded to Mount Vernon this morning. The grave of the unknown was opened and the body removed. Mrs. Moskovits recognized the coat and vest as that worn by her husband, but said the trousers were not of the pattern or texture worn by him. Owing to the high state of putrefaction, the body having lain in the grave for some time, it was impossible for the lady to say positively that the remains were those of her husband, and they were therefore committed to the earth and were buried still remains a secret.

DEATHS.—Mr. Henry C. Kinsadler, a well-known resident of West End, died at his home in that village yesterday evening, after a long illness, aged about 70 years. Mr. Kinsadler for a long time past had been employed as book-keeper for Messrs. Hunt & Roberts, of this city, and his good nature, honesty and integrity won for him many friends.

Mr. J. M. B. Spencer, son of Mr. J. A. Spencer, died last night of consumption at his home, the residence of his grandfather, Mr. Harris Freeman, north Royal street, aged 19 years. Mr. Spencer was a member of the Alexandria Light Infantry and a young man beloved by all who knew him. His mother and sister died last fall.

SENT ON TO COURT.—William Butler, colored, charged with making the murderous assault on Frank Davis near the corner of Fairfax and Princess streets one night last week, was brought before Mayor Strauss yesterday afternoon and fully committed for trial at the next term of the Corporation Court. The evidence against Butler was very positive, he having been seen to pick up a piece of a brick and put it into his pocket, and later to throw it and run.

THE USUAL treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
